

Informal meeting of EPSCO Council on Health

The EPSCO Council will meet during an informal session of the Ministers of Health. This will provide an opportunity for consultation with European Union Ministers of Health on important health matters and on the way in which they must be examined in greater depth within the European Union. Strengthening cooperation in combating and treating cancer will be one of the main topics of discussion. The ministers will also discuss the conclusions of the pandemic conference in order to look at how Europe can be better prepared for health security crises.
